RE: FY2023 Residential Renewable Electrical Generation Rebate Program lottery

To Interested Persons

The Department of Energy issued a memo on September 14, 2022 which allocated $200,000 in funding to the Residential Renewable Electric Generation Program (Program), scheduled the opening of the Program to new applications from October 1, 2022 to October 31, 2022 and approved the use of a lottery process to determine applicant queue positions. The Department received 352 applications during the October open period.

The Department issued a further memo on November 2, 2022 which approved an additional Program budget allocation from the Renewable Energy Fund (REF) for fiscal year 2023 (FY23), to result in a total allocation to the Program of $377,000. This funding will be used first to satisfy the program waitlist of 25 applications, and then to fund the 352 applications which were received during the October open period. We expect funding to be available for all eligible applicants.

The lottery was held on November 9, 2022 to determine queue positions for the 352 new applications received between October 1 and October 31 and applications will be processed in the order determined by this randomized ordering. A record of the queue results is posted to the Department of Energy website and customers will be directly notified of their queue positions in the coming days.

Thank you for your patience as we move through the application process.
