Re: Residential Renewable Electric Generation Incentive Program Scheduling Public Lottery

To Interested Persons:

The Department of Energy issued a memorandum dated September 14, 2022 approving program budget allocations from the Renewable Energy Fund (REF) for fiscal year (FY23). The Department also issued notification establishing a lottery process for queue position and application processing for the Residential Renewable Electric Generation Incentive Program (Program). The notice further stated that applications would be accepted for the Program from October 1, 2022 through October 31, 2022. 352 applications were received during this time, and the Program is now closed to new applications.

An electronic lottery process will be used to establish application queue positions and a public session to perform this process shall be held virtually Tuesday November 9, 2022, at 9:00 a.m. Information for the virtual meeting is available below, as well as on the Department webpage.

Following the lottery process, applicants will be notified by email of the status of their application and queue position as applicable. Please be advised that queue positions are not a guarantee of funding. Funding reservations and rebate disbursements are contingent upon the application and project meeting all Program terms and conditions
