	Questions	Answers
1.	What is the frequency of in-person meetings for the EM&V Consultant with EERS working groups and other stakeholders?	Typically, the EM&V consultant is not required to attend in-person meetings. Most of the meetings are held via teleconference, and that was the case even before pandemic-related remote conferences. The EM&V working group holds a monthly teleconference. Other teleconferences will be held with the evaluation study contractors to discuss studies in progress. On average, the teleconferences will last at least several hours a week, but that will vary based on the number of evaluations being overseen at any one time.
